“... God created man in his own image.”

Genesis 1:27

Miss Harper drew a shape on the board. “If this shape were the head of an animal, could you draw the face and the body?” she asked the children.

Susan volunteered to try. She picked up the chalk and added big eyes and wide nostrils. Then she added a fat, furry body.

“Good,” said Miss Harper. “Now I will draw the same head again,” she said. “Can anybody draw the animal in a different way?”

“Think of how many different animals God created,” Miss Harper continued. “God must have a great imagination because he made thousands of different kinds.

“By practicing using our imaginations to draw an animal in different ways, we are being creative too.”
